Forward thinking, straight talking

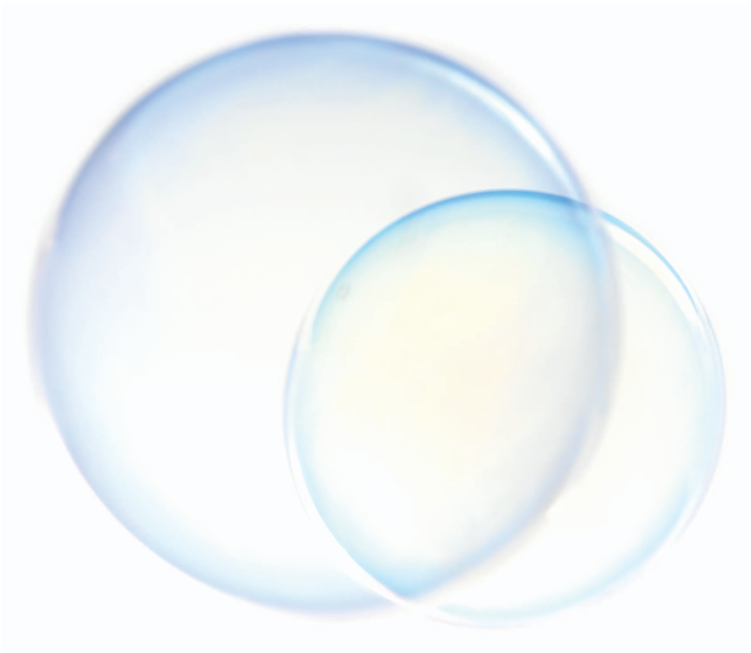

Although fully conversant with the complexities of intellectual property, the professionals at HGF seek to explain the most difficult subjects in a clear and concise manner so that our clients fully understand the work we carryout on their behalf.

At every stage, the firm operates with professional expertise and commercial focus so that our clients can make appropriate and timely decisions and in the most cost-effective manner.

Little acorns, giant oaks

HGF acts for a wide range of clients including major national and international companies, research organisations, universities, and SMEs. In fact, we are proud of the role we have played in helping individuals and small concerns to launch ideas which have gone on to become the basis of highly successful and profitable businesses.

All our clients receive the same level of personal, considerate service, detailed attention and expert advice.

Shared goals, mutual trust

HGF is driven by a desire to succeed, and operates in the knowledge that this will largely be achieved through the success of our clients and the referrals their success will engender. As such, we do all in our power to ensure that our clients succeed by offering them the most sound, professional advice, by identifying commercial opportunities and/or threats, and by always being sensitive to budgetary constraints.

Each client is assigned a carefully selected attorney or team as required, whose skill-base and background match the specific needs of that client. Partners and staff work to the highest professional standards and undergo continuous professional development to ensure their knowledge and skills are of the highest calibre. Furthermore, as the delivery of professional services is increasingly dependent on IT, they are supported by an exceptional tailor-made information database facility.

We enjoy an outstanding level of trust with our clients and go to great lengths to understand their businesses, aims and aspirations. Through the knowledge transfer that typifies these close working partnerships, clients also enhance their own awareness of contemporary intellectual property issues.

Establishing ownership, preventing misuse

Securing your intellectual property rights through patents, registered designs or trade marks is often essential if you are to profit from your concept and creativity. HGF's professional knowledge and experience in this field is second to none, which ensures that you gain maximum advantage from your intellectual property. However, it is a commercial reality that your rights may be challenged and may be infringed by third parties.

Protecting, defending and exploiting your rights is the province of our fellow professionals at HGF Law, our sister law firm. Working seamlessly alongside HGF's Patent and Trade Mark Attorneys, the specialist IP solicitors at HGF Law have great skill and experience in exploiting and protecting intellectual property. They act decisively and rapidly, and form a formidable team with our attorneys to ensure you do not suffer by loss of your own rights, or by infringing the rights of others.
